

Sanitary Board Reorganizes As Policy Outlined

Morris Quits as Secretary,
McGlade Is Named
As Successor

Reorganization of the Truckee Sanitary District with an aim for improving the service at the lowest possible expense and a decision to present frequent public reports in order to keep residents and taxpayers of the community advised of progress featured the meeting of the district directors last Thursday night.

The resignation of Fred O. Morris as secretary of the group and the appointment of John J. McGlade as his successor was announced. McGlade said he planned complete revision of the accounting system and a detailed report of the district's actions will be provided.

Directors Joe Mattos and Dave Rose went to Shingle Springs on Monday to discuss acquisition of approximately 20 acres of the Joe Joerger land adjoining the present disposal plant to provide necessary land for enlargement and improvement of the plant. This was the first step in the board's plan to make the system more adequate and effective.

Several Plans
A study is being made of several plans proposed under a recent survey of the system made by a firm of engineers. Before any decision is made on any of the various plans, the board decided, county and state officials, including Supervisor H. G. Locher, County Clerk R. E. Deebie and others, will be interviewed with an aim for securing cooperation and possible assistance.

Revision of the tax rate to make it more in keeping with the service extended is also being studied. The board hopes to trim the current high rate materially but announces that the possibility of a bond issue to complete the demanded improvements may be necessary.

Regular Meetings
The services of a part-time employee, to take charge of the disposal plant and make needed repair when required, is being contemplated, McGlade reported. Other matters will be discussed at regular meetings of the board scheduled for the first Tuesday of each month at the Mattos office on Main Street.

Rose is president of the board and other members are Mattos, Nate McCrery, Clarence Osburn and Morris.

"It is evidently the purpose of the board to provide the most adequate service possible at a minimum of cost," McGlade said. "Members appear sincere in this purpose and ask the cooperation of the public in making it possible. Unnecessary expenditures will be eliminated and a strict accounting of funds and activities will be made public at frequent intervals," he added.

Program Will Be Offered Sunday By High School

The combined art and music departments of the Tahoe-Truckee High School will present on Sunday, March 11, a choral program and art show. This event will take place at the Tahoe Lake School auditorium in Tahoe City at 2 p.m. The Tahoe Lake School was selected because it is centrally located and would enable people from the extremes of the district to attend.

A program combining two of the fine arts is unique in this community and is somewhat of an experiment in entertainment. The sponsors, Ernest Douglass and Robert Briggs, are anxious to encourage everyone in the district communities to attend. They would like to emphasize that people who are interested in art, music and the school attend, even though they may not have students in school.

The high school chorus, directed by Douglass, will present a diverse program of choral music.

Three Again Are Held In Robbery Of Boca Woman

First Hearing Ruled Out For Failure to Call Witness

At the second preliminary hearing for three bay area men charged with robbing Mrs. Martinez Morales of Boca after they offered her and her granddaughter a ride in their car more than a month ago, resulted in them again being held for the superior court and their bail was fixed at $1000 each.

The three, Harold D. Sullivan, 31, Ramie L. Sullivan, 21, and Harold D. Ingram, 19, are represented by Attorneys Lynn Kelly and Crofford Bridges and District Attorney Vernon Stoll conducted the prosecution.

The first preliminary was set aside after attorneys for the defense pointed out that Mrs. Morales was not called as a witness and that other testimony was lacking to justify a higher court trial.

Superior Judge James Snell set aside the information and ordered that they be held for five days to give the district attorney time for a new preliminary.

Justice of the Peace F. W. Wilson presided at the preliminary yesterday.

TANKER DITCHED AS LOG ROLL ON STATE HIGHWAY

Wallace A. Towle, driver of a Lang Transportation Company tank truck and trailer escaped injury Saturday morning at 10 o'clock after he drove his big vehicle into huge rocks along the highway five miles east of here to escape a head-on collision with a careening load of logs.

As the load of logs, driven by Lloyd L. Eveatt, Reno, employed by Raul Gardner, rounded the curve half a mile east of the Flycasters, some part of the equipment holding the logs gave way, allowing the rear of the load to swing off onto the wrong side of the highway.

The truck traveled 505 feet up the incline before it was halted, the load in the meantime taking up the entire highway and forcing Towle either to crash it or run off the highway.

State Patrolmen William Gautsche and John Pedri made the investigation and said they would cite Eveatt.

Decision of the governing board of the Truckee Sanitary District to keep the public informed at frequent intervals on its progress and plans for future development and to submit regular financial statements will be welcomed by the taxpayers of the district. Realizing the importance of public confidence, the board has authorized its secretary to present the details regularly and at the same time has issued an appeal for constructive cooperation in solving a difficult problem. The board has been criticized in the past for actions which, had they been explained thoroughly in advance, might have avoided misunderstandings. Every member of the board has no doubt been sincere in his desire to do a good job but the public being served has not been sufficiently advised of the purposes and the progress made and contemplated, and as a result there has arisen a certain antagonism which must be corrected. The contemplated action of the board will go a long way in solving the difficulty and should provide for increased cooperation and a more effective administration.

Dorothy Stice opened the show with a song, "Come and See Wyethia's History". The first meeting was called to order by Gladys Pedley acting as president and narrator for the acts and Mrs. Gifford who as secretary read the first minutes and charter communication.

The next act was "Whistling Lid" Vivian Gregory with her team ready to enter the dog derby by classic. This was followed by living pictures. The first, a tin-type, featured Ola Tonini as bride and Gladys Dolley as groom. Then came "The Thing" with Ethel Buell and Mary Wolert.

asm and the work done on the two previous races we list a program for your entertainment. From Emigrant Gap to the foot of the grade, most of this area being on the actual race course, owners of lodges and operators of ski hills have pledged themselves to play host to the many, many guests they expect. Their wives not only will be hostesses but will furnish a sumptuous buffet which will be included in your very reasonable entrance fee of fifty cents. So if you have a favorite host come and let him wait on you. Some will be waiters, some will be auctioneers; they will all be at your service. The party will be at Donner Ski Ranch where, still in a leg cast, Jack Woodard turns his building over to the area for their pet project. Prizes galore; fun galore; torch light parades; flags indicative of the many nationalities that will participate in the famed run. So great is enthusiasm this year that four more trophies have been added to the 20 originally given—one for ski club teams and three worthy of our skiing kids. One portion of the course, of necessity shortened, will be set up for juniors. So far Ernie Nordstrom of Ski Hi, application receiver, reports 40 some entries for the race. Consulates send us the flag of their nation to start the runners on the eventful morning of March 18th from the Summit as they face westward for their 26 mile run.

Hans Holsas, twice winner, returns again this year to defend his title. Should Holsas again claim victory the beautiful perpetual trophy donated by the Soda Springs Ski Corporation it will permanently go to him. Coincidentally, this day's application for entry brought in the youngest and oldest applicant—a youth of 12 for the juniors, a man of 70 for the veterans' class. SWANEE'S TAHOE LETTER noon. White caps covered the lake as far as the eye could see and tonight the breakers echo and re-echo along the winding shoreline.

Our neighbors, the Ray Fellows, and children Lewis and Sandra, returned Saturday to their home at Carnelian Bay after spending 10 days at Steamboat Springs and Aspen, Colorado. Lewis, who is only 13, attended the National Junior Championship ski jumping events at Steamboat and captured second place with 200 points—just .3 of a point behind the first placer. He made the longest jump of his group with a 79 foot leap, the hill's limit being 90 feet. Tahoe may well be proud of this youngster whose skiing records are bringing much favorable publicity to the Lake Tahoe region. The Fellows family then motored to Aspen where they found excellent skiing.

Also returning home Saturday from a week's visit to the Los Angeles area were Mr. and Mrs. Bud Scott of Carnelian Bay. They combined business with pleasure while in the south. Mrs. Scott visiting with her mother, Mrs. Mollie Ross, while her husband kept business appointments.

Talked with Charlie Cross tonight and he tells me Mrs. Cross is again in San Francisco undergoing medical care. She will have to wear her present cast for another 30 days or so but is greatly cheered, along with her family, by her continued improvement. We wish her all the good luck in the world and hope this will be her Temperature on Saturday dropped to a minus three and the warmest day was Sunday when 33 degrees were reported.

SEEK TO EXTEND TAHOE SEWER OVER STATE LINE

Permission for organization of a privately-owned sanitation company at Lake Tahoe was asked from the Washoe County, Nevada, commissioners Monday.

Ken Dolan, an insurance agent, told the board that he and two other residents of the area plan to put in a complete sanitation system about 5,000 feet in length to tie with the Kings Beach system on the California side of the line.

Dolan said the name of the firm was Tahoe Sanitation Co. and was composed of himself, E. Murphy and G. Miller, all residents of the north end of the lake.

Proposed route of the sewage line would be along Cal-Neva Drive and the state highway to Kings Beach.

Action on the petition was deferred by the commissioners.

North Tahoe

by T. BURROUGHS

Last Thursday evening about 5:15 I heard what seemed to be the sound of a crash in the hills following the seeming sound of a motor that suddenly sputtered and died after having struggled for several minutes appearing to make very little progress. Normally, no one likes to be wrong but it pleases me no small bit to be wrong in assuming that this was the finish of a struggling motor and the ensuing crash was not that of a light plane as I believed it to be. Dick Lavery and Harry Johanson made a very thorough investigation and reached a conclusion that it is possible to have heard the crash of a tree felled by woodsmen high upon a peak at that time of day. It is regrettable that they should have been caused discomfort. I feel sure, though, that they as well as myself are very glad it was an erroneous assumption.

North Tahoe Community Club met on Tuesday night at the Carpenters' Hall in Kings Beach with about 60 present in spite of a better than average storm. President Dixon opened the meeting, setting forth the purpose of the club which was recently reorganized. Dixon is sincere in his desire to help make North Tahoe a better and better place to live. If the members will back this new president there is not a doubt but what we will make progress. Refreshments were served while Bill and Ruth Misner showed pictures by General Electric on the development of electrical appliances and progress in the electrical field over a period of years.

The North Tahoe Women's Club Hat Party was a huge success, although some members could not be present because of stormy weather. Finny Arney merited full well that first prize awarded her on her creation of a ski lift hat. Mrs. Snyder of Lake Forest justifiably won second on her March of Dimes Hat, a most original creation, and "Mrs. Bag of 1951", a cute little paper poke hat created and worn by Peggy Mandeville took the booby prize. Nell Barkhurst did a fine job of announcing and Finny Arney quite successfully took over the duties of Sophia Levra who was called away suddenly because of the death of Mr. Levra's father near Yerington, Nevada.

Our little globe trotter, Mrs. Anne Blane, is back. Said she had some trip through Wyoming and Utah during recent storms. A train trip it was this time. Welcome home, little lady.

At the home of Audrey Welch on Tuesday afternoon with Virginia Kornazewich as co-hostess, Dottie Martin was guest of honor being showered with little pink and blue articles appropriate for that bundle Mr. Stork will deliver to the Martins soon. A huge cake made by M. J. Liepert portrayed the long nosed fellow with his charge. It was served with ice cream squares decorated in keeping with the event. There were 27 present to wish Dottie good luck.

Nina and Carl Sorensen left last Saturday for Hayward where Carl has the honor of a 50 year membership in the Dania Lodge, having been allowed the privilege of joining at midnight on his 18th birthday. On this trip down Gold pin along with other honors merited by members of such long standing.

Ruth Lavery spent last weekend in Sacramento, going down with Johnny and Gerry Rayburn and returning Sunday.

Ace Abbott, manager of the North Tahoe Public Utility District, spent three days in Marysville last week attending a meeting of managers, members of boards of directors, etc. Mr. Stewart from the state health department was there. Much valuable work was accomplished along PUD lines. Ace returned well pleased with results. More information will be available later.

Bert and Dorothy King are moving back into their home on Truckee Shortcut about April 1st. Said Dorothy, "I'll be glad to get back home."

Glad to see Mr. Ludlow walking round again after his experience with icy ground contact that resulted in a leg injury which proved less serious than it could have been.

Andy and Louise Anderson left for Sacramento last Friday to be with their daughter to welcome the old bird with a long beak due to arrive this week.

Ike and Granny Miles, Helen and Clare Walters, Mulford and Florence Miles were called to Long Beach early last week be-

SUPPLY AND DEMAND DUE FOR DECLINE, WEST'S PINERS TOLD

SAN FRANCISCO — (RNS)—Lumber demand in 1951 will not reach last year's record-breaking volume, but supply will probably shrink, too, more than 250 leading western pine manufacturers were told here as they concluded their annual two-day convention at the Palace Hotel.

W. E. Griffie of Portland, assistant secretary-manager of the Western Pine Association, told delegates that construction activity is expected to decline, but the military demand has not climbed as fast as anticipated. Ceiling prices, higher taxes and difficulties in obtaining parts and re-cause of the death of Ray Miles, an older brother of Ike and Mulford.

Guests in the P. M. Burroughs home for the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Meadow-Croft of Oakland with their daughter Paula. Meadow-Croft is a tavern owner who aspires to become a North Tahoe resident.

The siege of flu which hit the D. C. Barnett home in Kings Beach seems to be on the wane following the recuperation of Bartow Barnett and Dixie Bullard, Mrs. Barnett's sister.

keley's Kaleva Club. Incidentally, Dr. L. D. Nelson will be on hand the morning of the 18th to examine the contestants before they take off.

Four women so far have filed their intentions to run; hear there will be more. We look for over 100 contestants this year. Drawing for numbers will be held at the Ski Ranch on the night of the 17th. An after race banquet will be given by Elmo Morano of Beacon Hill Lodge. From the 13th on the mountain will be a bee hive of activity for various lodges have signified their intention of decorating with banners and pennants of foreign nations. Parallel lines in the snow give indication that some of the locals are also practicing.

We're still amazed by swimmers in Elmo's back yard during a snow storm. The Beacon Hill pool steams away merrily thru the worst storms and if you get from the covered breezeway into the pool quickly enough, you hardly know that you aren't in Palm Springs.

Jerry Carpenter of the state chamber of commerce was our guest for the weekend and came up to give us a hand with Donner Trail racing publicity.

Bert Wiley from the state beaches and parks commission brought us a set of five beautiful maps, put out by his department, showing the Emigrant Trail that should be made a part of the state park system. We told you last summer that said trail had been partly flagged and next summer's work will complete the 60 miles job. Commitments of land to the state for the work will have to be given freely if the trail is to be financed by our governing bodies. We have several of these commitment documents in our hands and think this is one of the first projects that should be tackled by the Service Clubs Council of Truckee. Way last spring we spoke before several clubs in this area as well as Colfax, Nevada City, etc., asking that interest be focused on the project. At the Rotary Club meeting we attended for the purpose, Clarence Tollefson of Truckee said that access thru any of his holdings would be available to the state for the perpetuating of the Emigrant Trail.

The above is one of the reasons we are all pushing the Donner Trail Memorial Race, for accent on the trail cannot be too greatly emphasized. Where we mark the trail by tying fluorescent cloth to the twigs and branches of foliage to guide the racers on their 26 mile march, a permanent marking would add glory and prestige to our most glorious part of the state.

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

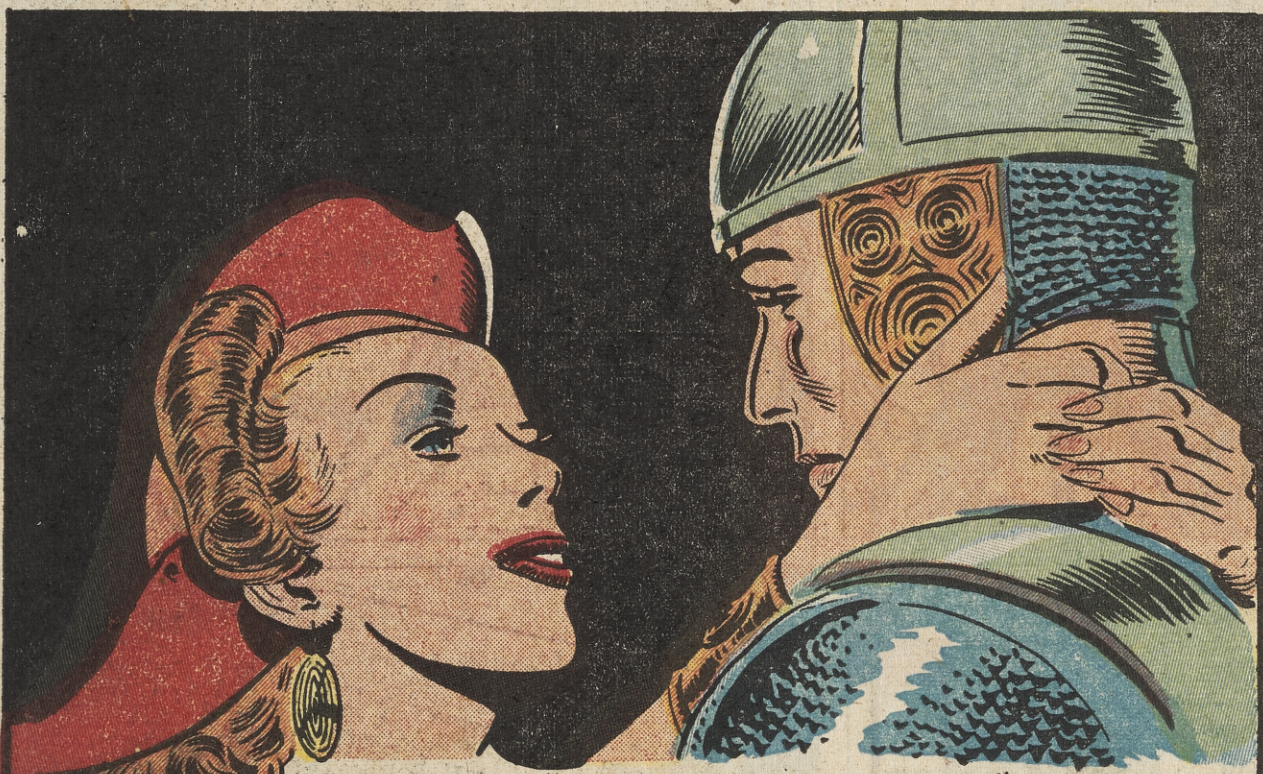

TARZAN, DORAK AND GAZEL
ESCAPED FROM SKAR'S ROOM THROUGH A
TRAP DOOR THAT OPENED INTO A MYSTERIOUS
PASSAGE. CAUTIOUSLY, THE FUGITIVES SOUGHT AN EXIT.

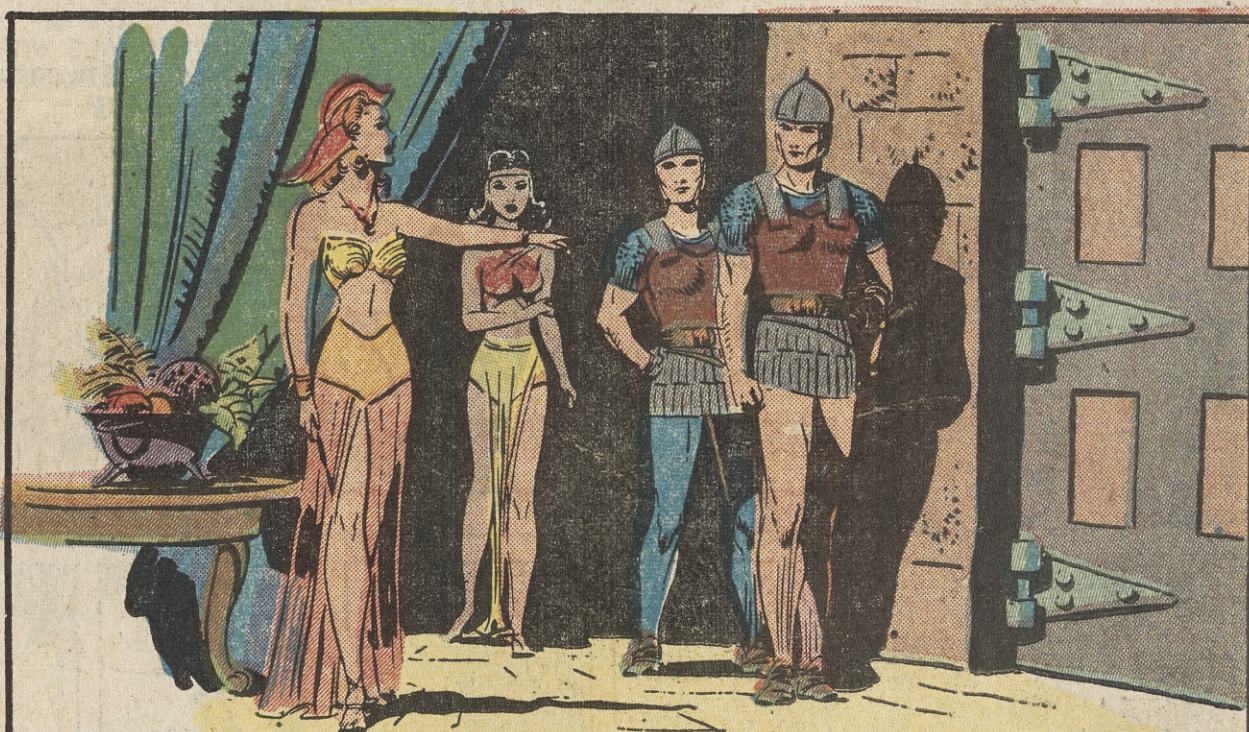

SUDDENLY TARZAN EXCLAIMED, "LISTEN! A VOICE--IT IS ZARA, THE PRINCESS. WITH LUCK SHE CAN BE OUR HOSTAGE!"

AT FIRST ZARA WAS STARTLED, BUT SOON SHE SMILED IN RECOGNITION. "YOU'VE COME FOR ME?" TARZAN ANSWERED QUIETLY, "YES, YOU ARE MY PRISONER."

"WONDERFUL!" REPLIED THE PRINCESS. "YOU
MISUNDERSTAND," SAID THE APE-MAN. "YOU ARE TO GUIDE US TO SAFETY!"

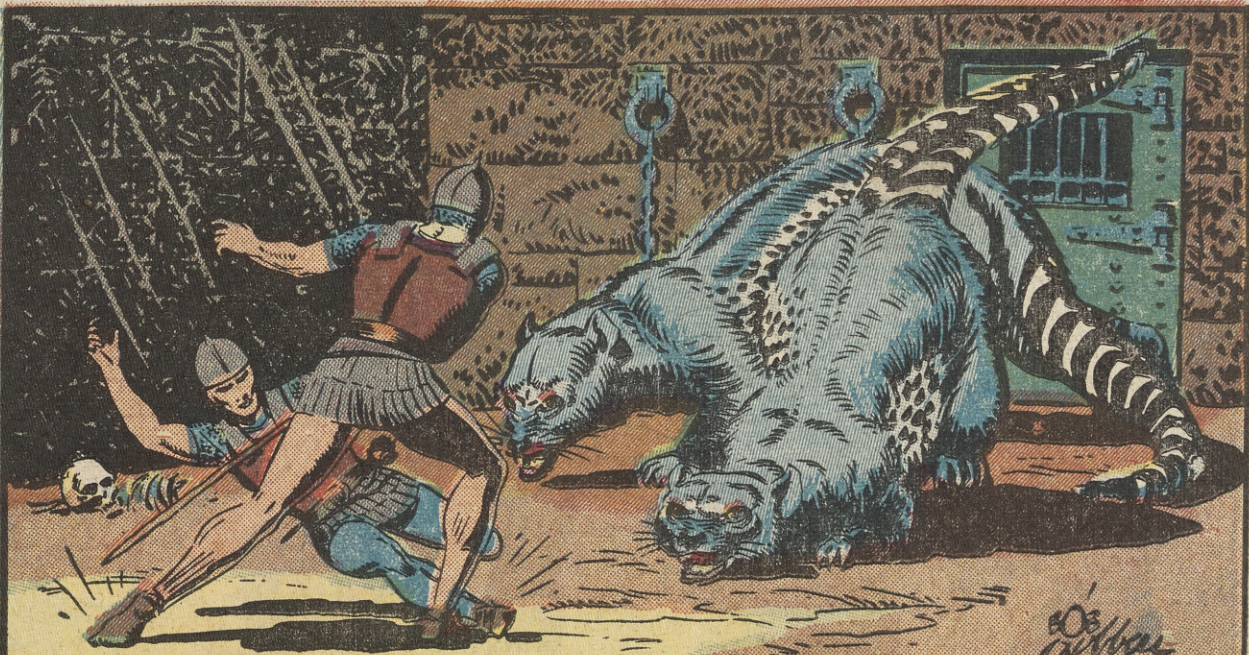

ZARA'S TEMPER RAGED INSIDE AT BEING SO CASUALLY SCORND, BUT SHE SPOKE CALMLY, "VERY WELL--SEE IF ANYONE COMES!"

WARILY, THE TWO MEN APPROACHED
THE DOOR. THEN ZARA LAUGHED,
AS WITH GREAT SUDDENNESS
THE FLOOR COLLAPSED
BENEATH THEIR FEET!

THEY PLUNGED DOWN A CHUTE INTO A DIM CHAMBER
WHERE TWO SNARLING CIVET-CATS CONFRONTED THEM—ORDINARY SPECIMENS, BUT TO TARZAN'S SMALL SIZE THEY SEEMED ENORMOUS!
